First Appearance of : Wallace the Yeti

Trivia :

The opening Star Wars titles reel reads :

Episode 65

Return of the Yeti

After rescuing Cheeky Monkey from PayPal jail (Episode 63), last week (Episode 64), our young and daring hero, Gordon McGlumpher has been awarded a very special "Hairy Houdini" Award for Esc"ape"logy and "Ape"recitation Badge from the Monkey Parish Council.

After an acceptance speech that thanked pretty much everybody on the planet (apart from his best friend Ringo), Gordon went to bed with a bellyful of Irn Bru and Shortbread from a "Hero's Supper" made by Auntie Gloria.

As The Crochet Kid laid in his bed, Grandpa McGlumpher told him a tale from his youth, when he was a budding Cryptozoologist in the very, very Northeastest part of Scotland. The story, told of how Young Grandpa (when we say young, he was in his 60s at the time, but we know he is pretty old!), roved out across the vast Scottish highlands and woodlands, searching high and low to prove the existence of the Scottish Yeti. Gordon fell fast asleep before the end of the story, with strange dreams of things that move at the bottom of the garden...

MAY THE FARCE BE WITH YOU...

Gordon still has his badge, which of course is hanging fine!

Gordon is going on a quest to the end of the garden to find the Scottish Yeti.

Gordon & Ringo find the Yeti who turns out to be friendly and is called Wallace, he speaks in a thick Scottish accent and of course enjoys Irn Bru & Shortbread.

Amanda displays "Sorry x" in magnetic letters after Scott plays "Massage In A Brothel" as a shout out for someone called Roxanne. She then displays one that says "Nob" at the end of the song and Scott apologises!

Grandpa reveals that the Yeti has been sharing his Irn Bru and Shortbread after following Grandpa from Scotland.

There is a short Barnsley Bob Ross clip after the final Test Card at the end of the show.

Next week is Gordon's sixth birthday!

There is so much Frank Turner footage they may do a special the week after next.

Bjorn had said that if Frank Turner was ever a guest he wanted to be in the video.....without knowing Scott had already approached him.

Scott shows a map of the UK with all the rude place names highlighted that has been sent in.

Wallace came about as there needed to be a trilogy in the Cheeky Monkey saga....there wasn't anything that rhymed with Jedi so it became Yeti.

Next week is show 1100!

The Big Neet In inspired by Vic & Bob and The Fast Show.
