Welcome to Big Neet In #55 – Roll Up! Roll Up! For the greatest show in tank-tops

Scott Doonican – Live & Lairy Frum Barnsley Rock City

First Appearance of : Tomatowatch with Grandpa McGlumpher

Trivia :

Amanda blows up a balloon in Scotts face using the balloon pump during “Shirley”, Scott knocks it off at the end of the song!

Ringo drops a coin and dents Scotts guitar by accident.

“Folking About with Bjorn” has been re-named “Folking Around with Bjorn” which is how Scott referred to it the first time it appeared!

The Scott puppet made for Scott as a birthday present features in the “Bring Me Sunshine” video.

There is a brief Barnsley Bob Ross clip after the Test Card at the end of the show.

Quotes :

“Are you mucking about? That’s my catch phrase!” (Percy)

“They’re trapped peas, they’re in a can” (Ringo)

“I’ve seen Wicker Men as you go in to Ipswich”

“Even if you lot aren’t laughing, we’re amused!”

“This is me going all Acapulco”

“I’m like the Pride Cossack!”

Scott’s Tank Top Badges : Dennis The Menace, NHS & The Wildhearts

Pre-Show Nerves : (Length: 08:55)

Records Played:

Circus (From Real Gone, an album by Tom Waits)

General:

Dramatic spoken word against a creepy soundscape rings out this evening. It’s Tom Waits. “I don’t know if it’s music or art or both,” says Scott. The track selected is Circus, a nod to tonight’s main show theme.

Scott’s in a red shirt and his red, lemon, green, turquoise striped tank top with Dennis The Menace, NHS and The Wildhearts badges.

He wishes everyone a happy Easter weekend.

Fan roll call.

“TTFN...ta ta for now. Byebye!”

Aftershow : (Length: 58:27)

Location: The Pint & Puppet

Songs Played:

Stayin’ Alive (The Bee Gees)

Dancing In The Dark (Bruce Springsteen)

Detroit Rock City (Kiss)

Records And Needles (Ryan Hamilton)

Down Under (Men At Work)

Free Bird (Lynyrd Skynyrd)

Breaking The Law (Judas Priest)

Shit Raffle Winner: Martin Murrells & Alison Smith

General:

As is becoming customary, the aftershow opens with Scott training the camera on Amanda as she puts the puppets to bed.

The clue for next week’s special guest is a close up of a Jim Morrison album cover with a Post-it note saying “Not this one...a lil one”.

Three minutes in Scott decides to introduce some ambient lighting to The Pint & Puppet. He holds a remote control up to camera, clicks it and "BOOM! Party time!" The whole room turns electric blue. It makes the puppets look really sinister and Scott is enjoying the look of his tank top in the mirror as the ultraviolet is making the red parts glow.

Realising the blue is a bit dark, Scott switches the lighting to red, then green, where he asks Amanda if he looks like The Incredible Hulk. He finally settles on a calm white light :)

On a serious note, a Doonifan has been very poorly this week and hospitalised. The person's wife thinks the best way to deal with these things is to add a sprinkling of gallows humour, which she knows her husband would appreciate. Therefore, a request is put to Scott to do a song that would be somewhat inappropriate. Scott obliges, plays The Bee Gees' Stayin' Alive.

Next up it's Bruce Springsteen, Dancing In The Dark.

A big shout out and thank you to 3 Daft Monkeys for their guest spot on tonight's main show.

Then a bit of Kiss, Detroit Rock City. Followed by a Ryan Hamilton rock number, Records And Needles.

Scott plays the next song for Amanda because she likes it. It's Men At Work, Down Under. All together now...

Do you come from a land down under?
Where women glow and men plunder
Can't you hear, can't you hear the thunder?
You better run, you better take cover

Ah...what a classic.

Lynyrd Skynyrd's Free Bird is the penultimate song of the night.

And to close it's a Judas Priest cover, Breaking The Law.

Scott: "Goodnight you lot, we love yer to bits."
